

Lamb Of God

Behold the sinless Lamb of God, hung upon a tree.
He suffered for the sins of man.
He pays the price for all we have done,
He pays the price for you and me.
Sinless Lamb of God.

The only Man Who did not sin,
nailed upon a cross.
His love for man so great and deep,
He gave His life for you and me,
His own life He did count but loss.
Lamb for sinners slain.

Oh love of God, so vast so deep,
when will we ever learn?
You are all love and grace and light,
our Lord and King, 't is You for whom we yearn.
